Operation TEXAS STAR:

Once again the 2-502 IN STRIKE Force Battalion moved its area of operations. The Battalion was released from the control of the 2nd BDE and came under the operational control of 3rd BDE. The Battalion headquarters was established at FSB Jack, and the battalion's maneuver companies operated in the mountains west of the fire base, screening and interdicting enemy units massing to strike against Camp Evans. (2-502 Unit History, Vietnam 1970; Approved by LTC Lloyd N. Cosby, IN Commanding)

14 April 1968

1/502 IN Battalion had a day of relaxation for the battle weary troops of the Battalion as they had stood down at Wunder Beach. (1-502 Unit Annual Historical Supplement)

14 April 2003

A clearance mission was executed by 3-502 in Al Mahmudiyah to root out any remaining paramilitary forces, while 2-502 conducted an out of sector mission in Al Iskandariyah to destroy military and paramilitary forces that might disrupt the corps main supply route. The one-day mission succeeded in destroying over 30 tanks, armored personnel carriers, anti-aircraft guns, and missiles.

15 April 1968

1-502 IN BN spend the day completing the move to LZ Sally. The units took re-supply and prepared for future operations. (1-502 Unit Annual Historical Supplement)

15 April 1969

Elements of the 1st Battalion, 501st Infantry from the 101st Airborne Division (Airmobile) find a munitions cache 17km southwest of A Shau in Thua Thien Province. Cache is estimated at 9.5 tons and includes over 2,000 mortar rounds.

15 April 1971 –

Operation LAM SON 720: In early April it became obvious that the NVA was making extensive use of the A Shau Valley to move troops, equipment, and supplies. The 1st Brigade was assigned to overall mission of disrupting the enemies' logistic system and impeding his use of the A Shau Valley Area. The Brigade Commander elected to employ airmobile raid tactics with rapid operations of a short duration. For five days the companies patrolled the area around FB Jack and took turns refining rappelling techniques at FB Jack. On 22 April, A/2-502 IN took the initiative with a night combat patrol north of A Loui Airfield and south of the Razorback. Echo Company followed with a reconnaissance assault and mortar raid on Eagle Nest where they established a patrol base for Alpha's raid on the Valley floor. These operations were conducted professionally and reflected the extensive training conducted in the staging area. The result that the company created was the illusion that the entire STRIKE Force was employed in the A Shau Valley, thus delaying and restricting the enemy's use of the area.

Bravo Company was directed to assist the 17th CAV in an aircraft rescue mission in the southern portion of the A Shau Valley. In typical STRIKE Force fashion, Bravo Company, minus one platoon, with one platoon of Charlie Company attached, combat assaulted into the valley late one evening and moved to secure the high ground. The next morning they attacked south against heavy resistance and secured the downed helicopters. B and C Companies, 2nd platoon then returned to FB Jack. Due to un-flyable weather over the planned area of operation, the battalion spent four days at FB Jack receiving additional training.

One April 30th, the weather cleared allowing a small element of the battalion to be inserted on Co Pung Mountain. One thousand fifteen meters in height, Co Pung commands the eastern approach to the upper A Shau Valley. To enjoy any success in the upper valley Co Pung had to be held. It was to be a 1st Brigade support base for future raids in and around Tiger Mountain. STRIKE Force was called upon to seize and hold Co Pung Mountain. Following B-52 strikes, fighter bomber attacks, and extensive artillery fire, the battalion landed on Co Pung fighting bad weather and a determined enemy. On (15 April 1971) with the initial sortie onto the mountain, two of the lift ships crashed on the LZ resulting in 5 STRIKE Force Troopers KIA (SSG Pacheco, SGT Wilson, SGT Cowley, SGT Gettelfinger, CPL Dutkiewicz) and 10 WIA. Recon and Bravo quickly seized the high ground and the engineers expanded the LZ's. Charlie and Delta Companies took the southern and eastern sides respectively. On 2 May the enemy in the surrounding areas launched the first of many mortar attacks against Co Pung. On 5 May the Command and Control aircraft for the battalion spotted thirty NVA approximately 1000 meters from Co Pung and engaged them with gunships with unknown results. Because the battalion was the first allied force to assault that area on the fringe of the A Shau Valley, an enormous amount of enemy activity was discovered and an endless collection of intelligence data was collected. During a nine day stay on Co Pung the battalion received eleven 60/81mm mortar attacks and seven 57/75mm recoilless rifle attacks without one single injury to a STRIKE Force Soldier. This was credited to effective counter mortar programming using air, artillery, and mortars; radio discipline (the enemy was never told where his rounds were impacting); sound combat patrolling (both day and night) and outstanding soldiering by individuals and fighting units. Some 101st troopers made the ultimate sacrifice on Co Pung and some STRIKE Force troops suffered injuries.

Most STRIKE Force troopers will remember Co Pung for the hardship created by unusually bad weather and the numerous enemy attacks but the capture of Co Pung opened the gate for the 1st ARVN Division in the upper A Shau Valley. Major General Tarpley, Commanding General, 101st Airborne Division (Airmobile), told many troopers on the day of the battalions return from Co Pung that the STRIKE Force troopers were the first Americans to set foot on the mountain. On May 8th an ARVN unit located at Co Pung and the STRIKE Force battalion was extracted back to FB Jack (YD 4928) to prepare for insertion on the following day into the area west of OP Checkmate and north of FB Veghel.

The return to OP Checkmate and the surrounding AO on 9 May lasted only ten days. During the period of 9-18 May the battalion patrolled the area surrounding FB Veghel. On 17 May one team of the Recon Platoon air assaulted into FB Shock (Vic 5105). Also on that day, 3rd Platoon, C Company observed and engaged three NVA's. The following day A Company discovered an old bunker complex and approximately 300 pounds of printing type. On the 18th, Delta and Echo (-) combat assaulted into an area in the vicinity of FB Veghel. D Company moved onto and secured FB Veghel while the remaining elements of the battalion conducted "Search and Clear" missions three to five kilometers south of FB Veghel. Prior to our battalion's assault into this AO, a unit of Vietnamese Marines had been operating in this area and had numerous enemy contacts. From the sum of intelligence collected, it was concluded that the NVA had a major base of operations located east of the Song Bo River. The battalion's mission was to move into the area forcing this base west of the Song Bo, at which time B-52 strikes, FAC airstrikes, and artillery would be dropped on their suspected location. While the 3rd

ARVN Regiment was heavily engaged with the 6th NVA Regiment west of the Song Bo River and south of route 547, the “Always First” Brigade moved to secure their eastern flank. Echo Company, 2-502nd Infantry secured Dong A Vo mountain while Alpha and Bravo attacked south with extensive fire support. Charlie joined in the final assault on Hill 608. The operation turned out to be a true infantry ground attack.

The combat assault of the Vietnamese Marines and elements of the 1st ARVN Division into the known location of the 6th ARVN Regiment around FB Veghel was heartening to the STRIKE Force troopers. While the battalion of the 1st Brigade, 101st Airborne Division was deployed along a line north and east of FB Veghel, the South Vietnamese Marines and Army units struck deep into the 6th NVA territory. This operation vividly demonstrated that the combat effectiveness of our Vietnamese counterparts. This was the first time that American units had been passed by Vietnamese units in pursuit of the enemy. The combined operation with the 3rd ARVN Regiment at FB Veghel was a perfect example of this. While the battalion was securing their artillery and headquarters at FB Veghel, the 3d ARVN Regiment attacked the 6th NVA Regiment at Dong A Tay Mountain.

Having completed the operation south of FB Veghel (Vic 5503); A, B, D, and E (-) Companies CA'd into the AO north of FB Veghel while B Company continued to secure firebases.

On 6 June the battalion CA'd into the AO north of FB Bastogne (Vic YD 6209), companies moving onto OP Lion (A Co.), OP Viber (B Co.), FB Bastogne (C Co.), OP King (E Co.), and D Company securing route 547. The mission was to interdict any enemy activity such as food agents or tax collectors traveling back and forth from Hue to the Song Bo River area. Alpha and Bravo Companies closed OP's Lion and Viper and moved off them to patrol the AO.

The AO the battalion was assigned to patrol was one of considerable enemy activity. Through the 1-327th Infantry and the ARVN had patrolled this area for the past 2 years, the battalion found innumerable enemy bunker complexes, high speed trails and sleeping positions. The STRIKE Force Battalion took charge and on 21 June the sniper platoon spotted and engaged 5 NVA, wounding one and capturing him a short time later. This POW was a food carrier/agent for the NVA and was carrying rice and supplies out to the area NW of FB Bastogne where he was to link up with a NVA Sapper unit. The POW related that because of increased presence (2-502 IN) in the area the enemy units were critically short of food. The following day the Sniper Platoon found several sets of fresh footprints and a satchel charge.

During the month all the units were able to get two days at Eagle Beach for a short R&R period. However, E Company spent more time there than most because of their outstanding performance. To add to the Snipers capture on 21 June, Recon Team 1, on 25 June observed, engaged, and killed 1 NVA. SGT Rathert was leading the patrol when he spotted the NVA walking toward him on the same trail. Reacting instantly, SGT Rathert killed this NVA and began to take necessary precautions for other NVA being in the same area. However, there were no others. One AK-47 and some documents were captured. On 24 June, Alpha Company 3rd Platoon conducted a combined operation with Regional Force companies from Nam Hoa District. Several Days later, on 28 June, the battalion moved to FB Tennessee (Vic YC 5596) to conduct operations in that area. B Company and a forward TOC were located on FB Tennessee. On 29 June the other companies of STRIKE Force CA'd into the area surrounding FB Tennessee. From the onset of this operation there were numerous signs of enemy activity. D Company found fresh footprints, bunkers, and a tunnel. C Company found some bamboo hootches; A Company discovered very fresh footprints of 1 NVA and tracks of one dog. These operations were not without price. On 17 June, the Platoon Leader, point man and Kit Carson Scout of 2d Platoon, A Company were wounded when a booby trap detonated. The next day the platoon observed and engaged and unknown size enemy force resulting in one STRIKE Force Trooper WIA. Later that day, one RPG round from an unknown enemy force killed one STRIKE Force Trooper and wounded another.

July saw the STRIKE Force Battalion still in Operation Lam Son 720. The mission of the battalion was to fix the position of the K-2 NVA Battalion, believed to be operating near FB Tennessee and to interdict enemy traffic. At all times, the basic mission of the battalion was to deny the enemy food, freedom of movement and flexibility of operations. This was accomplished by conducting preplanned air strikes and artillery fires.

On 2 July, the point element of A Company detonated a booby trap resulting in one STRIKE Force Trooper KIA and three other WIA. Personnel operating in the FB Tennessee area became wary when approaching suspected enemy locations. On one occasion, elements of D Company received two rounds of incoming mortar near their location without suffering any casualties. Sweep operations continued in the AO and members of the battalion found numerous trails, huts, and bunkers. The operation on and around FB Tennessee revealed there was substantial enemy activity in that area. Increased air strikes, flame drops, and artillery fires were placed on the suspected enemy locations. In mid-month, the battalions moved off FB Tennessee and established FB Spear. This move was to provide support for operations in that area and to provide screening elements for the southern area of operations. During this period, the battalion TOC was located at FB Normandy, with the unit continuing its operations in the AO without any significant contact with the enemy. The STRIKE Force Battalion continued its successful interdiction of enemy infiltration routes and denied the enemy its basic needs. The end of July brought to a close of Operation Lam Son 720 and ushered in the renewal of Operations Jefferson Glen. (2d Battalion, 502d Infantry; Unit History, Approved by LTC John C. - 16 April 1968 Eighteen miles north of Hue, elements of 2nd BN (ABN), 501st IN discovered an enemy base camp containing 20 underground tunnels and bunkers. Stored in the tunnels were 1,000 AK-47 rounds, 20 rounds of 60mm mortars and various medical supplies. (Rendezvous with Destiny; Screaming Eagle Vietnam Diary; July 1968)

- 16 April 1968 Operation JEB STUART/CARENTAN: 2-502 effectively accomplished its mission. It secured the rock crusher site and made significant contacts with the enemy forcing him to sustain significant losses in personnel, and weapons. He was forced to move his base area to avoid contact. 2-502 managed to establish heavy FSB Bastogne, in the desired time limit.

Operation Lam Son: On 17 April 1971, the 2-502 IN BN moved to a staging area at Fire Base Jack where they prepared for Airmobile raids in the A Shau Valley. In early April it became obvious that the NVA was making extensive use of the A Shau Valley to move troops, equipment, and supplies. The 1st Brigade was assigned the overall mission of disrupting the enemy's logistic system and impeding his use of the A Shau Valley area. The Brigade Commander elected to employ Airmobile raid tactics with rapid operations of a short duration.

A/2-502 lead off with a night combat patrol north of A Loui Airfield and south of the Razorback with Echo/2-502 IN following up with a reconnaissance assault and a mortar raid on Eagles Nest where they established a patrol base for Alpha's raid on the Valley floor. These operations were conducted professionally and reflected the extensive training in the staging area. The result was success in that we created the deception that the STRIKE Force was employed in the A Shau Valley. Thus, delaying and restricting the enemy's use of the area.

B/2-502 was directed to assist the Cav in an aircraft rescue mission in the southern A Shau Valley. In typical STRIKE Force fashion Bravo Company, minus one platoon, with one platoon of Charlie Company attached combat assaulted into the Valley late one evening and moved to secure the high ground. The next morning they attacked south against heavy resistance and secured the downed helicopters. The wounded crew members will be forever indebted to Bravo's success in this operation.

Next came Co Pung Mountain. At 1615 meters Co Pung commands the eastern approach to the upper A Shau Valley. To enjoy any success in the upper valley Co Pung had to be held. It was to be a 1st Brigade support base for future raids in and around Tiger Mountain. STRIKE Force was called upon to seize and hold CO Pung Mountain. Following B-52 strikes, fighter bomber attacks and extensive artillery fire that battalion landed on Co Pung fighting bad weather and a determined enemy. Recon and Bravo quickly seized the high ground and the engineers expanded the LZ's. Delta and Charlie took the southern and eastern sides respectively. During our nine (9) day stay on Co Pung the battalion received eleven (11) 60/81mm Mortar attacks and seven (7) 57/75mm Recoilless Rifle attacks without one single injury to a STRIKE Force Soldiers. LTC Lloyd Cosby credits this to the effective counter mortar programming using the air, artillery, and mortars; radio discipline (we never told the enemy where his rounds were impacting); sound combat patrolling (both day and night) and outstanding Soldiering by individuals and fighting by units. Some 101st troopers made the ultimate sacrifice on Co Pung and some STRIKE Force troopers suffered injuries. They all fought well and they deserve our honor now. Most of us will remember Co Pung for the hardship created by unusually bad weather and the numerous enemy attacks but it can be reported that our capture of Co Pung opened the gate for the 1st ARVN Division in the upper A Shau Valley. MG Tarpley, Commanding General, 101st Airborne Division (Airmobile), told many of you on the day of our returned from Co Pung that "the STRIKE Force troopers were the first Americans to put foot on the mountains."

Our return to observation Post Checkmate and our well worked AO lasted only 10 days. While the 3d ARVN Regiment was heavily engaged with the 6th NVA Regiment west of the Song Bo River and south of Route 547, the "Always First Brigade" moved to secure their eastern flank. Echo secured Dong A Vo Mountain while Alpha and Bravo attacked south with extensive fire support. Charlie joined in the final assault on hill 608. This operation turned out to be a true infantry ground attack.

The combat assaults of the Vietnamese Marines and elements of the 1st ARVN Division into the known location of the 6th NVA Regiment around FB Veghel are heartening to me. While the battalions of the 1st Brigade, 101st were deployed along a line north and east of FB Veghel, the Vietnamese Marines and Army units jumped over the American units and struck deep into the 6th NVA. In my view, this is Vietnamization at its best. It was also vividly demonstrated the combat effectiveness of our Vietnamese counterpart. This is the first time in my memory that American units have been over-jumped by the Vietnamese units in pursuit of the enemy. In my opinion these are good signs. Our combined operation with the 3rd Regiment at Veghel was perfect example of this. While we were securing their artillery and headquarters at Veghel the 3d Regiment attacked the 6th NVA Regiment on Dong A Tay Mountain. Our Friends paid a high price for the defeat of the 6th NVA Regiment but they accomplished it with professional skill. In short, I say "hats off" to their aggressive fighting spirit.

I am extremely proud of the STRIKE Force Battalion's accomplishments during the past two months and I fully realize that our success is to the credit of you, the Infantry trooper. Without your dedicated professionalism these difficult missions could not have been accomplished. (Operation Lam Son 720 letter from LTC Lloyd Cosby, Commanding, 30 May 1971)

William Wallace speaks to the Soldiers of the 101st Airborne Division's 2nd Brigade Combat Team, exhorting them to stay vigilant as Operation Iraqi Freedom transitions into a peacekeeping and humanitarian stage. "Don't let your guard down," Wallace said. "Show the people of this country the proper respect, but be careful. There's still a bunch of knuckleheads running around." He went on to praise the troops for giving "back to the Iraqi people the society and culture that is rightfully theirs." U.S. Army photo by SPC Robert Woodward, 101st Airborne Division.

Operation Spartan Strike: 2nd Battalion, 502nd Infantry Regiment, Combined Action Strike Force (CASF), remained in Afghanistan under the Operational Control of 3rd Brigade, 10th Mountain Division from 18 April to 28 May 2011. During this time, CASF conducted Operation Spartan STRIKE to continue disruption of insurgent command and control, finance, and logistics operations in western Zharay District, Kandahar Province.

In April 2011, STRIKE Force attacked to clear Objectives Macarthur, Eisenhower, and Caldwell in the areas of Nalgham and Charharshaka, Zharay District, Kandahar Province. During the initial operation to clear Objective Macarthur on 21 April 2011, A/2-502 IN and C/2-502 IN discovered and reduced multiple fighting positions and caches including weapons and IED making materials. The people appeared indigenous to the area and expressed interests of local concern. The rapid infiltration, population-centric clearance of the area, and air exfiltration from Objective Macarthur prevented the enemy from fixing Combined Action Strike Force (CASF), and the operation was a success. The subsequent clearance of Objective Eisenhower on 24 April 2011 in the Central Zharay Siah Choy area successfully interdicted $5.15 million of drugs used to fuel the insurgency.

The air assault vertical envelopment permitted HHC/2-502 IN and D/2-502 IN to land behind the insurgent defensive IED belts to discover and reduce multiple IED and weapons caches. The Task Force encountered multiple small arms fire engagements with the Taliban that resulted in several Afghan National Security Force (ANSF) detainees. CASF conducted its final operation in the month of April to clear the Charharshaka area believed to be an insurgent support zone. On 27 April 2011, C/2-502 IN and Scouts from HHC/2-502 IN conducted an air assault to clear Objective Caldwell. During the clearance, Combined Action Strike Force assessed the population largely supportive of ISAF, ANSF, and GIRoA. The local national population facilitated the identification and reduction of weapons caches, IED making materials, and $500,000 worth of narcotics.

Operation Delaware/Lam Son – 216

Locations: I Corps: Quang Tri and Thua Thien Provinces; A Shau Valley; Pac Nhe Valley; Rao Loa River; “Puchbowl”; A Loui; Ta Bat; FSB Bastogne; LZs Cecile, Pepper, Stallion, Tiger, and Vickey.

Type/Objective: Reconnaissance in Force. Delaware is an airmobile raid into the enemy stronghold of the A Shau Valley. The goal is to exploit the enemy defeat in Pegasus and take advantage of enemy troops massed in the area. A secondary purpose of Delaware is to prevent another attack on Hue.

Units: U.S. – 1st Cavalry Division; 1st BDE (1-8th CAV, 2-8th CAV, 1-12th CAV), 2nd BDE (1-5th CAV, 5-7th CAV, 1-9th CAV), 3rd BDE (1-7th CAV, 2-7th CAV, 23rd Infantry Division (Americal), 196th Light Infantry Division; (2-1st IN, 3-21st IN, 4-31st IN), 101st Airborne Division; 1st BDE (1-327th ABN, 2-327th ABN, 2-502nd ABN); VNAF – 1st ARVN Division (3rd ARVN Regiment, 6th ARVN Airborne Battalion)

Casualties: Totals for Delaware/Lam Son – 216: U.S. - 142 KIA, 731 WIA, 47 MIA; NVA/VC 869 KIA (Note – Americal Division troops were listed as reserve units for this operation. They were not sent in; instead they were used to fight the 320th NVA division along the DMZ.)

In what was termed “one of the 101st toughest missions in Vietnam” Screaming Eagles of the 1-502 IN BN began operation Delaware in an attempt to block off enemy supply routes along Highway 547 leading out of the A Shau valley toward Hue. During their operation, the 101st paratroopers were joined by the 3rd ARVN Airborne Task Force. (Rendezvous with Destiny; Screaming Eagle Vietnam Diary; July 1968)

19 April 1970

Operation TEXAS STAR: 2-502 IN effectively accomplished their mission under the control of 3BDE and returned to 1st BDE. The operations center was initially established on FSB Strike (YD577171). The Battalion was to sweep north of Highway 547 west of Song Bo River. Although intelligence indicated heavy enemy activity in the area, the STRIKE Force encountered relatively light resistance east of the Song Bo. Headquarters for the operation was reestablished at FSB Veghel.

19 April 1970

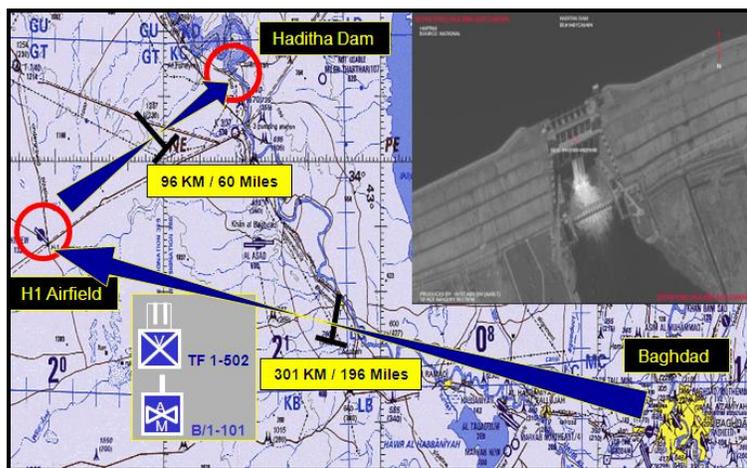

Operation TEXAS STAR: B/2-501 IN was in a company size NDP awaiting helicopter extraction from Re-Up Hill Area. NVA forces of an unknown size attacked 2nd Platoon's side of the perimeter resulting in 2 KIA and 1 WIA.

XXIV Corps (Thua Thien Province) – At 1635 an element of the 2nd Brigade, 101st Airborne Division (Airmobile), received small arms and automatic weapons fire from an undetermined size enemy force 23 miles west of Hue (73 miles WNW of Da Nang). The troopers returned fire with organic weapons and contact was lost a short while later. While continuing to search the area, the troopers received an unreported number of 60mm mortar rounds at 1715, and, at about 1825, engaged and estimated enemy platoon. Small arms and automatic weapons fire was exchanged and the ground troops were supported by helicopter gunships and artillery. Fighting continued until an unreported time during the night when the enemy withdrew. Enemy losses are unknown. U.S. casualties were one killed and six wounded. (MACV Summary for April 1970)

19 April 2003

From Baghdad, TF 1-502 moved independently over 400 km and linked up with special operations forces to secure the H-1 airfield, Haditha Dam, and to relieve 3rd Ranger Battalion. TF 1-502 operated in a very austere environment, over 600 kilometers from the nearest logistical supply hub, and connected to its parent headquarters only by intermittent satellite communications. The unit's actions in Haditha resulted in the repair of a dam that was an essential part of Iraq's power grid, and the destruction of large amounts of munitions and equipment that could have been otherwise used by terrorist forces. Along with securing the dam, TF 1-502 established a police force that initially patrolled alongside American forces, helping to ensure a safe and secure environment in the Haditha District. Once such stability was established, the conditions existed to select an interim Mayor and city council. The interim government and police force were in place when TF 1-502 conducted a relief in place with 3ACR.

STRIKE HISTORY (Citation's and Awards):

SPC Dwayne Turner (HHC/3-502 IN), a combat medic received the Silver Star after providing life-saving medical care to 16 fellow Soldiers when his unit came under a grenade and small arms attack 30 miles South of Baghdad. Specialist Turner was a part of a work detail that came under attack as they unloaded supplies in a makeshift operations center. When a grenade was thrown over the wall by insurgents, the blast threw SPC Turner into the vehicle, and wounded him with shrapnel. Ignoring his own injuries, SPC Turner ran to the front of his vehicle and observed a Soldier with eye injuries. He evacuated his comrade to a more sheltered position and with another two medics established a triage system under the cover of a building. SPC Turner then ran back outside to bring more Soldiers into the makeshift clinic. He explains, "After I got the first patient inside the building, I sort of slumped down in the corner. I didn't think there was any way we were going to get out of there, and it would have been really easy to just stay in that corner. Then I heard (the wounded) calling for medics, and I realized I could let them continue to get hurt-and possibly die-and not come home to their families, or I could do something about it." While providing first aid to other wounded Soldiers, SPC Turner was shot at least twice including one bullet wound that broke his right arm and another in his left leg. "A couple of times, I heard bullets going by, but I thought they were just kicking up rocks on me." Nevertheless, he continued to give first aid and to bring Soldiers in from the barrage of gunfire outside the compound until he finally collapsed against a wall from loss of blood. On being informed that he was bleeding by his fellow medics, SPC Turner states, "Someone told me, 'Doc Turner, Doc Turner, you're bleeding.' I looked down at my leg and saw I was bleeding, and kind of said, 'Oh hell, if I'm not dead yet, I guess I'm not dying.'" Doc Turner's perseverance and diligence preserved the lives of every Soldier he treated until the MEDEVAC could arrive. The Army believes that at least two of the 16 Soldiers he treated would have died had he not helped them during the attack. SGT Neil Mulvaney, of HHC, 3-502 IN has said of him, "He risked his life for 16 other men without noticing his own injuries-that's heroism in my book." As far as SPC Turner's response, he has said "I was just doing my job. As far as the values of the Army, it's not to 'earn' a Silver Star; it's to uphold what you signed on for. Other people may see me as a hero; I see myself as doing my job. No one is going to die on my watch."

13 April 2003

SGT Neil A. Mulvaney III (HHC/3-502 IN) earned Army Commendation Medal with Valor for heroic actions during combat operations against Iraqi enemy forces. Sergeant Mulvaney provided accurate suppressive fire which resulted in several Soldiers' lives being saved. His physical courage and self-sacrifice is in keeping with the history of the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) and the United States Army. (Permanent Orders #219-615 (August 7, 2003))

1LT Ronald E. Phillips (D/2-501 IN) was awarded the Silver Star Medal (1-OLC) for gallantry in action in the Republic of Vietnam on 15 April 1968. Lieutenant Phillips distinguished himself while serving as a platoon leader in Company D, 2nd Battalion (Airmobile), 501st Infantry, on a search and clear operation on twenty-five kilometers northwest of Hue, Republic of Vietnam. Lieutenant Phillips' platoon received intense enemy small arms fire and automatic weapons fire from concealed enemy positions in a nearby wood line. Three of the lead men were wounded in the initial contact, and because of their proximity to the enemy lines, several rescue attempts failed. Lieutenant Phillips immediately crawled to the injured troopers. In order to reach them, he was forced to run across an open rice paddy under increased enemy fire. Reaching the first man, he placed himself between his wounded comrade and the enemy fire and immediately administered first aid. He then crawled toward the other men. By this time, several others from his platoon had joined him, and he organized his small element into teams to remove the wounded from their hazardous positions. As the men moved back to the friendly position, a sniper began to fire at them from a tree top. Once again,

Lieutenant Phillips risked his life as he maneuvered against the sniper and prevented the hostile force from advancing on the rescue party by continuously firing his weapon and throwing hand grenades. Returning to his platoon, he made certain that the injured had been properly evacuated, and then maneuvered his platoon against the enemy troops. In the fighting that followed, he personally confronted and captured an armed North Vietnamese Soldier. Lieutenant Phillips' personal bravery and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

SP4 Fletcher J. Nowlin (C/1-501 IN) was awarded the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action while engaged in military operation involving conflict with an armed hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam on 15 April 1969. Specialist Nowlin distinguished himself while serving as a platoon medical aidman with Company C, 1st Battalion, 501st Infantry, on a combat operation in Quang Nam Province, Republic of Vietnam. In the early morning hours on the cited date, the Third Platoon of Company C received intense enemy sniper fire that instantly killed two men and wounded others. Specialist Nowlin ignored the hostile fire as he went from position to position checking for and treating the wounded. On one occasion he low-crawled thirty-five meters outside the perimeter, while under enemy fire, to render medical aid to a fallen comrade. Then disregarding his own safety, he shielded the wounded man with his own body as he helped him back inside the perimeter. His courageous actions directly resulted in the saving of many lives. Specialist Nowlin's personal bravery and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

PFC Michael J. Uhden (D/1-501 IN) was awarded the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action in the Republic of Vietnam on 16 April 1968, Private First Class Uhden distinguished himself while serving as a rifleman with Company D, 1st Battalion (Airborne), 501st Infantry, during combat operations near the village of Thon Bat-Vong Tay, Thua Thien Province, Republic of Vietnam. While crossing an open rice paddy the point element of the company was taken under an intense volume of hostile automatic weapons fire from a well concealed and fortified enemy bunker. Seeing a comrade fall seriously wounded, and next to the bunker, Private First Class Uhden unhesitatingly braved the murderous hail of enemy fire to extract the trooper by routing the enemy fire from the bunker, killing two occupants with hand grenades. Private First Class Uhden's indomitable courage and valorous actions enabled the wounded to be successfully and safely evacuated from the combat area. Private First Class Uhden's valor reflects great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

CPL Norman D. Peery (B/2-501 IN) was awarded the Silver Star Medal (Posthumously) for gallantry in action in the Republic of Vietnam on 17 April 1970. Private Peery distinguished himself while serving as a machine gunner in Company B, 2nd Battalion (Airmobile), 501st Infantry, during combat operations near the Coc A Bo Mountain, Republic of Vietnam. While set up in a night defensive position, Private Peery's unit came under an enemy ground attack. Private Peery successfully engaged an insurgent with an anti-personnel mine and warned the rest of the company of the attack. Despite intense enemy fire, Private Peery returned a heavy volume of suppressive machine gun fire on the insurgents. Although the enemy fire was concentrated on his position, Private Peery remained with his machine gun until he was mortally wounded by hostile fire. Private Peery's personal bravery and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

18 April 2003

LTC Jeff Ingram (2-70 AR) received the Silver Star awarded by LTG William S. Wallace for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action while serving as Commanding Officer of 2-70 AR, attached to 2nd Brigade, 101st Airborne Division, during combat operations in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom, on 31 March 2003, in Iraq. During the battle to secure Al Hillah, Iraq, on 31 March 2003, Lieutenant Colonel Ingram's unit was moving on the city to divert the enemy's attention from the 3rd Infantry Division so they could move forward to Karbala. LTC Ingram's unit encountered dismounted forces and artillery and rocket propelled grenades from a Republican Guard Battalion. LTC Ingram calmly and skillfully directed the efforts of a combined arms task force in destroying the Iraqi Battalion as multiple rocket propelled grenades bounced off his tank, massed artillery fire exploded all around and intense small arms fire was directed at him.

SGT Jeffrey J. Joseph (B/2-501 IN) was awarded the Silver Star Medal (Posthumously) for gallantry in action in the Republic of Vietnam on 19 April 1970. Sergeant Joseph distinguished himself while serving as a squad leader in Company B, 2nd Battalion (Airmobile), 501st Infantry, during combat operations in Thua Thien Province, Republic of Vietnam. While set up in a night defensive position, Sergeant Joseph's unit received small arms, grenade, and mortar fire from an enemy force of unknown size. Sergeant Joseph moved from position to position directing his squad's return fire. He pointed out suspected enemy positions and gave encouragement to his weary troops. When the squad's machine gun had expended most of its ammunition, he collected additional ammunition and brought it to the machine gun position. Shortly after taking a position behind part of the squad, Sergeant Joseph was mortally wounded by enemy fire. His actions contributed greatly to the safety of his men. Sergeant Joseph's personal bravery and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army. (Headquarters, 101st Airborne Division (Airmobile), General Orders Number 6255; 04 June 1970)

STRIKE HISTORY NOTE:

A major reorganization took place on 3 February 1964, when the 2nd Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division was activated at Fort Campbell, replacing the 1st Airborne Battle Group, 501st Infantry Regiment. The reorganization from the battle groups to brigades and battalions placed two battalions of the 502nd in different brigades of the 101st. The 2nd Battalion was in the 1st Brigade with 1-327th and 2-327th Infantry. Which deployed to Vietnam 1965, in was most notable commanded by LTC Hank "The Gunfighter" Emerson. The new 2nd Brigade's original organic battalions were the 1st and 2d Battalions, 501st Infantry, and the 1st Battalion, 502nd Infantry.

December 1967, 2nd Brigade deployed by C-141 aircraft to the Republic of Vietnam. Over the next five years, soldiers of the "Ready to Go" Brigade participated in twelve campaigns, compiling a distinguished combat record as well as an enviable reputation for success in the rehabilitation of a war-torn nation. The President of Vietnam personally decorated the colors of the Brigade three times, twice with the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry, and once with the RVN Civic Action Honor Medal. The Brigade redeployed to Fort Campbell in April, 1972.

In 1984, with the reorganization of the Combat Arms Regimental System, the 2nd Brigade became the parent headquarters for the 1st, 2nd, and 3d Battalions of the 502nd Infantry Regiment. With this reorganization, the Brigade adopted the regimental motto, "Strike."
